

Vaccine Update #469 – Spleen Australia updates, reminders from NIP

Spleen Australia updates

Spleen Australia medical recommendations for adults and children with asplenia/hyposplenism have been reviewed by a multidisciplinary committee of experts from a range of fields and are now available on the Spleen Australia website.

Reminders from the National Immunisation Program

- As the festive season approaches, providers are reminded to use the Australian Immunisation Handbook chapter on vaccination for international travellers to guide advice to patients who are planning to travel over the holidays.
- There is an updated version of the Australian Immunisation Handbook mobile app, available to download on Apple and Android devices.

This document can be made available in alternative formats on request for a person with disability.
